1.	PRESIDENT’S ADDRESS – TOM DALY The meeting commenced with the introduction of the Board members. Tom Daly expressed gratitude to former Board Member Helen Kerrane for her valuable contribution to Cycling Ireland over the past eighteen months. A moment of silence was observed in remembrance of all deceased members of Cycling Ireland since the last AGM held in November 2022. The year 2023 was acknowledged as a challenging yet encouraging period for Cycling Ireland. The organisation continued its agenda of governance, financial, and structural reform following events of the previous two years. The 2023 Annual Report, inclusive of commentary and reports from staff, commissions, and provinces, was highlighted as providing members with insight into the continued development and progress made during this period. It was noted that Cycling Ireland remained active in delivering a range of programmes, initiatives, competitive and leisure events, coach education, marketing, and communications, as well as the administration of cycling activities across the island. The High-Performance Unit (HPU) continued to excel in delivering top riders to international events across various disciplines, including the inaugural combined UCI Cycling World Championships. Significant efforts were also directed towards enhancing the High-Performance Development Pathway with the appointment of a dedicated staff member. Cycling Ireland successfully collaborated with Sport Ireland and Sport Ireland Campus to host the first-ever Cyclo-cross World Cup event in Ireland in December 2022. The event was deemed highly successful, with the Cyclo-cross World Cup set to return to Dublin later in the year. Key developments in 2023 included the renegotiation of the contract with exclusive events partner Eventmaster, the establishment of an Advocacy and Participation Working Group, and the commissioning of a professional sponsorship agency to explore potential partnership opportunities. The tireless work and dedication of staff across all levels of the organisation were commended. The Board of Directors received recognition for their unwavering commitment to serve the best interests of members and the wider cycling community. Special mention was made of the vital role played by volunteers in provinces, commissions, and clubs, along with event organisers, marshals, commissaires, and other volunteers across the wider cycling community. The resilience and strength of the organisation's fundamentals were emphasised, despite a period of instability, reputational damage, and significant financial cost over the past two years. Ongoing governance, financial, and administrative reforms, along with constitutional and structural changes, were highlighted as providing a platform for stability and growth. Thanks were extended to Chris Kitchen for his significant contributions as Interim CEO during the first half of the year. A warm welcome was extended to the new Chief Executive Officer, James Quilligan, who joined

4.	CEO Update – CEO, James Quilligan
	Tom Daly welcomed James Quilligan, the new CEO of Cycling Ireland. He also thanked Louise Reilly from the Board and Myra McGlynn from the Executive team for their time and effort in the CEO recruitment process. The CEO expressed his gratitude to Cycling Ireland for the opportunity. He noted that, for him to succeed, he needs the full support of all the stakeholders in Cycling Ireland. He further noted he is happy to talk to everyone and hear the negative and positive stories, but he needs the Board, Staff, and Volunteers working together for Cycling Ireland to move forward. James Quilligan gave an overview of the business year to date. Highlights from James' presentation included setting values for the Organisation and staff taking on more leadership positions. He noted that a big positive that he sees is a huge passion for the sport coming from all stakeholders and emphasising that the staff form a dedicated team it is his intention to continue to build on this. The Board is very supportive, and he noted his ambition for the organisation was for it to become a high-performing NGB. He confirmed that Cycling Ireland is monitoring response-rates to all phone calls to the office with better communication high on his agenda. It was confirmed that a UCI Level 1 Coaching Course is currently being rolled out. It was stressed that all disciplines must be supported, with a focus on youth. The CEO requested the help and support of the membership, urging everyone to work together to create an organisation that all can be proud of. From the floor Tommy McCague (Emyvale CC &amp; Cycling Ulster Chairperson) commended James on his initial interactions, stating that they have been excellent. He wished him well, affirming that in his opinion James is the right person for the job. In wrapping up the CEO expressed his appreciation for the time and passion of the volunteers on their committees.
5.	PRESENTATION AND CONSIDERATION OF THE DIRECTORS' REPORT FOR 2022 – SUSAN AHERN
	Appointed Director and Chair of the Audit, Risk and Finance Committee, Susan Ahern presented the Directors' Report and outlined the responsibilities of the Board. The Certified Audited Financial Statements of the Company were adopted, showing substantial costs from legacy issues contributing to an operating loss of €184,642 for 2022. Excluding the impact of the increase in the value of the investment property, the underlying operating loss would have been €584,642. It was STATED that the Board discussed the timelines for the budget process in 2022 and agreed on a Zero budget in July 2022. Additionally, it was NOTED that membership numbers increased by 6%, and the Cycle right programme was expanded to over 27,000 children. The Director's Report was ADOPTED.

8.	FIXING OF SUBSCRIPTIONS FEES FOR 2024
	The CEO took the members through the proposed Subscription fees for 2024 and outlined the unified fees that were being proposed, which now included personal accident Insurance for all Leisure Memberships. While there were some adjustments to license costs, there would be no overall increase in the average cost of joining Cycling Ireland. It was RECOMMENDED that Limited and Open Competition would be reviewed in 2024. The proposal was APPROVED after being proposed by Marian Lamb (Phoenix CC) and Seconded by Tommy McCague (Emyvale CC).
9.	CONSIDERATION OF REPORTS
	All reports were considered as read having been issued as part of the Annual Report which was available to all members online. A query was raised regarding the selection process of coaches in the High-Performance (HP) Programme. The CEO clarified that there is a conflict-of-interest policy in place, preventing coaches from participating in the selection of HP athletes. Iain Dyer (Cycling Ireland High Performance Director) confirmed that there is no formalised process, and different selection panels are employed for various disciplines. It was also affirmed that there exists a conflict-of-interest declaration procedure. The CEO highlighted the availability of a public survey, inviting contributions. The CEO provided some statistics, indicating that there were thirty-nine male racing licence holders and fourteen females. A question was raised concerning a recent media issue around Para athletes, seeking clarification. The CEO assured the attendees that measures have been implemented to prevent a recurrence of such incidents. The candid response was acknowledged and appreciated. A further query was raised regarding the High-Performance program, specifically concerning the Majorca U23 Development Camp. It was CONFIRMED that a senior rider was brought in to assist in an extended training camp in preparation for the February Euros. It was NOTED that two athletes attended the camp on a self-funded basis. Among these athletes, two were of British nationality but had Irish heritage, and one of them now competes for Ireland. This athlete is set to join the U23 women's team for the first time, participating in the elite competition in 2023.
