

BRAKING

Moving the bike along with the hands positioned ready to pull the brakes

Pulling only the back brake causes the back wheel to skid, but will not stop the bike straight away

Pulling only the front brake will cause the front wheel to stop and the back wheel to lift off the ground

Pulling both brakes, back just before the front, should stop bike smoothly and quickly